The purpose of the award is to encourage faculty, REPS and students to contribute to the body of knowledge in their respective fields/discipline by publishing in internationally respected journals that are peer-reviewed and adhere to high standards of scholarship.

2. Eligibility

2.1 All faculty members, including those on sabbatical and secondment to other agencies, REPS in active service, clinical faculty members, emeritus professors and students are eligible for the award.

2.2 A UP unit (institute, department, center, etc.) indicated as the affiliate institution of the author(s) shall receive an IPA apart from the IPA for authors.

3. Scope of Award

The International Publication Award shall be granted for all journal articles published in:

3.1 Web of Science (WoS)–indexed journals formerly ISI (Thomson Reuters)

- 3.1.1 Science Citation Index Expanded (SCIE)
- 3.1.2 Social Sciences Citation Index (SSCI)
- 3.1.3 Arts and Humanities Citation Index (AHCI)
- 3.1.4 Conference Proceedings Citation Index

On a case-to-case basis, journals that are not indexed in the above but are evaluated by the IPA Committee to be of high quality, owing to the reputation of the board of editors and track record, may be considered eligible for the IPA.

3.2 Scopus-listed journals

4. Value of Award

4.1 For articles published in journals indexed in SCIE, AHCI, SSCI, CPCI with no impact factor or in Scopus-listed journals, the maximum amount of the IPA shall be P55,000.

Articles published in predatory journals are not eligible to receive the IPA. The head of the unit and the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Development (or its equivalent) are enjoined to evaluate the application and certify that the journal has been vetted by the department to be reputable in the field, is not predatory or does not exhibit predatory characteristics.

4.2 Articles published in journals indexed in SCIE, SSCI and AHCI with impact factor (IF) will be given the following IPA monetary award:

Impact Factor	Amount (maximum)
Below 2.0000	P65,000
2.0000 to <4.0000	P80,000
4.0000 to <6.0000	P100,000
6.0000 to <8.0000	P125,000
8.0000 and above	P155,000

4.3 For articles published in journals indexed in SCIE, SSCI, AHCI and CPCI with multiple authors, the UP-affiliated corresponding authors of the publications will receive a monetary award in addition to their share of the IPA as follows:

Impact Factor	Amount (maximum)
No IF	P3,000
Below 2.0000	P4,000
2.0000 and above	P5,000

4.4 In case of co-authorship, the award shall be divided equally among the number of authors, local and foreign. Only UP-affiliated authors eligible for the award shall receive it, provided the article is published while they are on active service or before their retirement or resignation from the University. Each UP-affiliated author (i.e. affiliated with the University AT THE TIME OF APPLICATION as an enrolled student or a faculty member with an appointment) will receive a share of the IPA equal to P55,000, P65,000, P80,000, P100,000, P125,000 or P155,000, as applicable, divided by the total number of authors.

4.5 The IPA per publication for UP units is P15,000. Each UP affiliate unit will receive a pro-rated share of the IPA equal to P15,000 multiplied by the number of authors affiliated with the UP unit divided by the total number of authors.

5. Requirements

5.1 The author(s) must clearly be identified as belonging to UP. If the article was produced while on sabbatical abroad or as a result of a joint project with foreign scholars, proper acknowledgement must be given the foreign institution that accommodated the faculty or supported the project; the UP address/affiliation of the author(s) must nonetheless be indicated in the publication as a byline).

5.2 The article must fall within the discipline or related field of the author. For example, a work of poetry shall not be entertained if authored by faculty or REPS outside the field of creative writing, unless there is sufficient proof of prior recognition of the author as a serious practitioner in the field of creative writing as determined by the VPAA, upon consultation with known literary figures.

5.3 Authors eligible for the award may receive it as often as they publish. However, an article may be awarded only once.

5.4 An article for which an IPA was granted shall not qualify again for an IPA if it appears as a chapter in a book published by a reputable international publisher. However, if an article for which the author was awarded an IPA is subsequently developed by an author into a book that is published by a reputable international publisher, the author may be eligible for an IPA in the book category.

5.5 An article which has been published online and assigned a digital object identifier (DOI) can already be applied for an IPA.

6. Procedure

6.1 The Department Chair/Institute Director should email the accomplished IPA Form (Form 4.1) with attachments: Citation and Abstract Template, Popular Article Template, Copy of Journal Article, Copy of the Editorial Board Page of the Journal, and Evidence of the author's identification with UP, to the following address: ipa.ovpaa@up.edu.ph.

6.2 For articles with inter-CU collaboration, each department/institute should submit a separate IPA Form 4.1.

6.3 Henceforth, applications for the IPA must be submitted within one year of the publication date or issuance of a DOI. Applications received after the prescription period will be accepted but will not get the full amount of the monetary award and computed using the rates/guidelines applicable at the time of application. The monetary award shall be reduced by 20% for every month beyond the one year prescribed period.

6.4 Should a publication for which a faculty, REPS or student was awarded later be withdrawn or retracted by the publisher owing to misrepresentation of data or authorship, plagiarism or some unethical act, the author(s) shall return the full amount of the award, without prejudice to the application of other University sanctions.

7. Public dissemination of UP's international publications

7.1 The abstracts of all IPA publications will be posted on the OVPAA website (ovpaa.up.edu.ph).

7.2 The author(s) is/are required to submit a popular article about the publication. The popular article (laymanized description of the research) will be featured in the OVPAA website and used as part of UP's accomplishments for public dissemination.

8. Effectivity

The amounts mentioned in Items 4.1 to 4.4 are applicable to journal articles published from 1 August 2018 onward.
